

ZEST Café comes to the Marriott Meon Valley Hotel and Country Club.

Marriott Meon Valley Hotel and Country club is renaming the Long Weekend Café bar to be 'Zest' in June 2008.

The hotel is currently undergoing major refurbishment projects in food and beverage areas of the hotel and the existing Long Weekend bar is currently under refurbishment and due to open early June 2008. After the refurbishment it will be renamed 'Zest' offering a second casual dining option for hotel residents, with light meals available during the day and transforming into a more intimate setting with soft lighting and upbeat music during the evening.

Heading up this fantastic new venture is the Executive Head Chef, Gareth Bowen. Gareth joined the hotel in November 2007 and is a local boy who honed his skills in foreign parts such as New York and Bermuda.

Director of Operations at the hotel, Rak Kalidas commented 'These are exciting times for Meon Valley Hotel & Country Club, with Zest replacing the Long Weekend concept, the Food and Beverage Team are getting very excited to open the doors to our guests and members alike. A lot of planning and preparation has gone into the concept and the team are ready to execute service delivery to make Zest the venue of choice, for food and beverage, at the Hotel and in the local area. In the summer we will further enhance this by opening our terrace for a more alfresco feel, simply sit back and enjoy and relax!
