CAROLINE ASTOR AFTERNOON TEA

St. Regis Afternoon Tea Offerings

Seating Available Saturday and Sunday, 2:30pm To 4:30pm

ADULTS	55
CHILDREN	40

HISTORY OF AFTERNOON TEA

Tea consumption increased dramatically in England during the early nineteenth century and it is around this time that Anna, the 7th Duchess of Bedford is said to have complained of "having that sinking feeling" during the late afternoon. At the time it was usual for people to take only two main meals a day, breakfast, and dinner at around 8 o'clock in the evening. The solution for the Duchess was a pot of tea and a light snack, taken privately in her boudoir during the afternoon.

CAROLINE ASTOR LEGACY

Since its creation in England in the early 1800s by Anna, Duchess of Bedford, Afternoon Tea has long been associated with the entertainment of society. Naturally, New York society's Grande Doyenne, Caroline Astor, or "The" Mrs. Astor as she was known in the Gilded Age, adopted this tradition as her very own. It was a joyful occasion and the opportunity to host gatherings with her closest intimates - an exhilarating prelude to her more noteworthy formal social events.

Davidoff, “Nicaragua Box Pressed” 70

Robusto , Nicaragua

This Nicaraguan puro proves that Davidoff is still at the top of the heap. The cigar starts on a high note, with a flawless 10-year-aged Cuban-seed Nicaraguan Rosado wrapper. This vintage leaf is spun lovingly around a blend of long-filler tobaccos hailing from Nicaragua’s premier growing regions. This complex core is then concealed by a rich Jalapa binder, kicking the level of complexity up another notch. Thick, billowing clouds of smoke greet the senses as this slow-burning cigar delivers all the way down to the nub.

Davidoff, “Nicaragua Box Pressed” 80

Hand Rolled 6x5 , Nicaragua

This Nicaraguan puro proves that Davidoff is still at the top of the heap. The cigar starts on a high note, with a flawless 10-year-aged Cuban-seed Nicaraguan Rosado wrapper. This vintage leaf is spun lovingly around a blend of long-filler tobaccos hailing from Nicaragua’s premier growing regions. This complex core is then concealed by a rich Jalapa binder, kicking the level of complexity up another notch. Thick, billowing clouds of smoke greet the senses as this slow-burning cigar delivers all the way down to the nub.

Meluha “ Meta Toro Gordo” 60

Costa Rica, Habano

.A Meluha takes seven to nine years, from the initial planting of the tobacco seed to the finished blend. The result is a taste that is fuller-bodied and bolder, lingering on the palate and memory long after the last puff. An exceptionally large ring gauge, 66 to be precise. For greater pleasure, longer burning time and an escape that is intensely enjoyable.

Romeo Y Julieta “Exhibicion No. 1” 24

1875 , Dominican Republic

Romeo y Julieta 1875 is aptly named as a nod to the year the company was first founded in Cuba. Appropriately, this prestigious distinction was reserved for one of the brand’s most popular and best-selling cigars. This 92-rated, medium-bodied delight is well-esteemed both critically and commercially. Bearing a dark and oily Indonesian wrapper, and flavorful Dominican binder and filler mix, this medium-bodied cigar is perfectly balanced, never overwhelming its smoker’s palate. It’s warm, pleasant profile is flavorful but not overly complex, providing an exceptional draw of cedar, hazelnut, leather and other earthy notes, with a distinct finish of sweetened spices..

Cigars

Havana Cigars “Tres Capas”	25
Hand Rolled, Nicaragua
Starts out mild, then medium and finally bold for discriminating cigar connoisseurs that wish to try each leaf as they progress in their pursuit of the perfect cigar palate
Havana Cigars “Rayado”	30
Hand Rolled, Nicaragua
American Caribbean Cigars	26
“La Rosa De San Diego Inmenso Xo Connecticut”
Hand Rolled, Nicaragua
Handmade in Nicaragua, La Rosa De San Diego Connecticut cigars present a memorable mild-medium-bodied smoke that conveys creamy and milky tones of nuts and cedar in each relaxing draw.
Marcus Daniels “We the people”	36
Churchill Claro, Ecuador/ Dominican Republic
Produced in Miami. A wonderful any time of day cigar, this blend is loaded with flavor galore; particularly nutty with a long cedar wood finish and hints of coffee. This blend offers a delightfully smooth and rich flavor that is mildly robust.
Marcus Daniels “Bidwell Blend Café Corojo”	40
Toro Largo, Nicaragua
Bidwell Blend is a puro made of 100% long filler Nicaraguan tobaccos. It has a rich, creamy corajo wrapper and is medium to full-bodied. Bidwell Blend is great by itself or with an aged single-malt Scotch. This Nicaraguan beauty is quite smooth, although not for the faint of heart and finishes with a nice kick. This is good for anyone who enjoys medium to full-bodied Havanas.
Plasencia 1865 “Alma Fuerte Sixto II”	60
Box Pressed Gordo, Nivaragua
The Plasencia Alma Fuerte features some of the very best tobaccos grown by them, comprised of an all Nicaraguan core of long-fillers wrapped in an oily Nicaraguan Habano wrapper. Making the Plasencia Alma Fuerte an exceptionally bold blend with a rich flavor profile. The blend delivers hints of cocoa, leather, and spice in a very complexed and balanced smoke that’s enjoyable from start to finish. These Small-batch beauties earned an impressive 93-rating by Cigar Aficionado in 2017 and was named the #9 Cigar of the Year.
Plasencia 1865 “Cosecha 146 San Luis”	40
Toro, Honduras
All of the tobacco in Cosecha 146 is from Criollo '98 seed. The wrapper comes from the Jamastran Valley in Honduras, while the binder comes from Estelí, Nicaragua. The filler is a mix of tobaccos from Nicaragua (Condega) and Honduras (Olancho and Jamastran Valley).
