GREAT ROOMS FOR GREAT MINDS

Beautifully restored parquet flooring, elegantly high ceilings, ornate cornicing, original sash windows, and oak panelling tell one story: that of our distinguished heritage as a place where great minds met. Large LCD screens, a state-of-the-art wireless presentation system, Meeting Services App and high-speed Wifi tell another: that this is a venue perfectly equipped for today's meeting of minds.

It is this seamless blend of historic charm and thoughtful, modern convenience that sets London Marriott Hotel County Hall apart, both as a hotel and a meetings and events destination. Add to that our incredible riverside location, offering uninterrupted views of Big Ben and the Houses of Parliament, and you have a truly compelling experience to offer your guests.

King George V

Eleven different rooms are available for meetings and events, each of individual character. At one end of the spectrum, there is our Francis Anderton room, an intimate, bright, informal choice. At the other, our King George V room, a grand space, imbued with history, that can be paired with our charming Queen Mary room to allow separate meeting and breakout areas.

With your vision explored and defined, our dedicated team recommends a room, tailors its layout and technology, designs extraordinary food and drink menus, and provides real-time service via our Meeting Services App. No two meetings are the same, because no two imaginations are the same. We call that Meetings Imagined.

THE LIBRARY

Offering postcard-worthy views over Big Ben and the Houses of Parliament, The Library features oak bookcases stacked with the classics and busts of literary and historical figures like Shakespeare, Plato and Milton, which transport diners back to the 1920s.

First opened in 1922 by King George V and Queen Mary, The Library isn't without its own tale to tell. Struck by a bomb in World War II and the venue for many heated political battles between Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and Ken Livingstone, the historic room houses a turbulent past – if walls could talk!
